Did you know?

Cinches & Girths

There's a simple solution to the irritable response you get from your horse when tightening their cinch or girth. Believe it or not, biting, ear pinning and even intentional stomach bloating can be a thing of the past with correct use of the right cinch or girth. The answer is easy enough – don't over tighten it.

The Professional's Choice VenTECH™ Cinches and Girths give you the opportunity to let your horse breathe, literally. With your horse in good spirits, we guarantee their heightened level of comfort will make a world of difference to both of you when it comes time to saddle up.

The VenTECH™ Cinches and Girths feature a non-slip liner that grips your horse so that your saddle stays in place without having to over tighten. In addition, the liner is ventilated so that heat and moisture can escape, keeping your horse cool and comfortable while minimizing sweat that can contribute to sliding.

The VenTECH™ Cinches and Girths don't harbor bacteria and when it comes time for washing the liner easily peels away.

Who knew tacking up could be such a cinch!
